6. Stage 3 Progress Update

Simon Bendall provided a summary of the report, noting that Stage 3 was progressing well, though the pace was quick.

The evaluation surveys undertaken by Edge were discussed. Noted that an additional joint workshop at EIT had been held in response to feedback from Panel Members.

Ms Hopmans was concerned that Des Ratima (Kaitiaki o te Roopu), who had recently stepped down from his role, was not being replaced. Unfortunately it was very hard to find someone willing to provide that level of commitment with knowledge of the process to date at this late stage of the project.

There is a need to engage with the affected marae and to ensure that Mana Whenua representatives were confident in speaking when asked.

Economic value was discussed in relation to social return on investment, where detailed information was being gathered as part of the social impact work. This could be independently assessed by an economist.

Resolution:

That the Clifton to Tangoio Coastal Hazards Strategy Joint Committee receives the Stage 3 Progress Update report.

7. MCDA Methodology Review

Simon Bendall explained that the report was provided to give the Joint Committee an insight into the current challenges TAG are working through as Stage 3 progresses.

A key challenge faced was the sheer number of potential options identified through the workshops – this amounted to some 52 options for the Southern Cell alone. Scoring all these options is too big a task. It is proposed that Tonkin and Taylor with assistance from the Edge Team shortlist the options further on a best professional judgement basis, but still provide the Panels with a chance to question and challenge their recommendations. The process needs to be transparent and ultimately agreed to by the Panels if it is to be successful.

The second key challenge is the details application of the MCDA approach, as there are a few different ways this can be done in the context of this project which must consider long timeframes, best options at different times, and against a range of criteria. These approaches will be tested by the TAG group before being taken out to the workshops. TAG is very mindful of not overwhelming the panels with onerous and overly complicated process, and there will be a test-run to walk the Panels through how the MCDA process works, before going through the actual scoring process.

Resolution:

That the Clifton to Tangoio Coastal Hazards Strategy Joint Committee receives the MCDA Methodology Review report.

8. Cultural Values Assessment

Aramanu Ropiha presented to the committee and explained that she was asked to identify cultural values along the coast from Clifton to Tangoio. There are a number of cultural sites of significance that sit along the coast but these can only be understood and explained by looking at the broader context of occupation, use and how people lived at the time.

Ms Ropiha would like a process by which the report can be adopted and go into the public arena. Although the piece of work has come late into the scene it should not be undervalued. An appreciation needs to be gained of the cultural sites and the vista.

It was suggested that local hapū have the report reviewed to ensure accuracy and agreement from their point of view. There are local entities that can assist with finding someone to 'peer review' the report.

CLI68/17 Resolution:

That the Clifton to Tangoio Coastal Hazards Strategy Joint Committee receives the Cultural Values Assessment report.

2. Port of Napier - expecting the application to be filed with HBRC by the end of this month.
3. Clifton Revetment - Clr Heaps and Mark Clews spoke to the slides on the screen showing the proposed wall at Clifton and associated road works with passing lanes. Funding is being investigated through the HDC Annual Plan process at the present time.
4. Haumoana Revetment – No further updates. No application filed yet, meetings held but no further progress to report.

Discussion ensued as to whether or not the above projects should feed into the Coastal Strategy being planned. It was generally felt that this should happen.

11. Funding Model Update

Graeme Hanson told the committee that two meetings have been held between the three contributing councils with Philip Jones (PJ and Associates) being engaged to provide expert advice. Concern was expressed about how this fund could be managed and where the decision making sits. This needs to be discussed at TLA level.

By the next Joint Committee meeting, a proposal needs to be framed. The TLAs need to be clear of what the JC is proposing. A regional solution to localised problems. It was imagined that HBRC would manage the fund, but it needed to be clear how the fund was administered and the extent of delegated decision making authority.

Discussion ensued that HB LASS Ltd could be a vehicle or model to consider. There are some important fundamental questions that need to go back to the TLAs for discussion.

Resolution:

That the Clifton to Tangoio Coastal Hazards Strategy Joint Committee receives and notes the Funding Model Update report.
